Free, Prior, Informed, and Consent

Consensus Process

Indigenous peoples and/or local community who live in or around forest area are respected and positioned as important partners in the emissions reduction efforts. The community's role is performed through their involvement in the planning and implementation of REDD+ activities.